17 Projects We Loved at This Year's Collectible Fair in Brussels

by Monica Khemsurov

We didn't have the pleasure of personally attending this year's Collectible design fair in Brussels, where Sight Unseen hosted an installation by Objects of Common Interest, yet word traveled quickly back to us that those who did had taken to referring to our presentation as "the famous booth," an accolade that activities on Instagram seemed to confirm. We were flattered to hear it, of course, but also honored to share the spotlight with so many other great presentations by galleries and up-and-coming designers, from a chartreuse tiled floor lamp by Duccio Maria Gambi for Nero Gallery to the insane color explosion going on in Victor Hunt's booth, courtesy of Nortstudio and Julien Carretero. While our own project is of course featured at the top of this post, scroll down to see 16 more of our picks below.
